We want you to understand the safeguards our business takes to ensure your privacy, and how we protect your information.

Hatteras is dedicated to the strict confidentiality and privacy of all information. We limit access to non-public personal information to only those employees who need access to this information to service your account. We will not sell, rent, or lease your personally identifiable information and will not disclose your information to others. Information will only be disclosed as required by law, or when directed by the customer to share specific information with another third party.

Generally, we do not collect any personally identifiable information from individuals unless specifically provided by the individual. For example, when you request information regarding our products, events or promotions, you voluntarily provide your name, contact address, telephone number and e-mail address. Occasionally you may be asked to provide additional information regarding such things as product interests, professional interests, demographics, experience with our products and contact preferences so that we may better understand your needs and continue to improve our products and services to you. We do not intend to obtain any personal information from minors.

Hatteras maintains strict administrative, physical and technical safeguards designed to protect your information from unauthorized access by third parties. We regularly modify these controls to respond to changing business needs and technology enhancements. In addition, Hatteras employees are required to sign and comply with confidentiality and non-disclosure policies.

Occasionally we may send you postal or e-mail communications to provide information about our products or events that we think you will find useful. You can choose not to receive future emails from us by contacting us and asking to be removed from future mailings.

You can change your contact information and preferences at any time by contacting your account representative. If you wish to be removed from our mailing list, please call our toll free number (800) 695-0719 and ask to be unsubscribed.
